Robert Wronski

Rob Wronski is the Bureau Chief of EMS and Trauma for SC DHEC. He has served in many roles in the fire and EMS community since beginning his career as a volunteer firefighter/paramedic in 1991 until becoming the Chief of EMS at DHEC in 2014. Rob has begun many first responder programs as well as assisted in the start- up of several transport agencies and has served as an EMS officer in three fire departments and as Assistant Chief of the St Andrews Fire Department in Charleston. Rob holds both EMS and Fire Instructor certifications in many disciplines and is an accomplished EMS researcher, having won awards for abstracts submitted to several major EMS Conferences and has published many peer reviewed articles and two research papers. Rob retired from the US Navy after 20 years in the submarine service, holds a master's Degree in business administration, is credentialed as a CEMSO, and recently completed his Certified Public Manager (CPM) program through the state of South Carolina.